BULLETIN ADS. ARE A LITTLE BETTER THAN ANY OTHER

EDITION

An advertisement should be inspired by cordiality, as if one would say, "Come and see me. I have something of interest to show you." The first requisite for success in business is to have the something of interest to show; and the second is to invite people to come and see you.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

will attend to that part of the undertaking in the most SATISFACTORY MANNER.

THURSTON'S TALK WITH LUCAS ON BROWN'S HONESTY

"Thurston talked with me and asked me not to vote for Brown," said Supervisor John Lucas this morning, referring to L. A. Thurston's letter in the Advertiser today.

"I asked him if he thought Brown was dishonest?"

"No," he responded, "I do not think he is dishonest."

"I asked Thurston if he did not think Brown was the more capable man."

"Thurston replied that he thought Brown was. He then began to talk of his opposition to the gang he has around him."

Yesterday's Bulletin stated that I had said that I believed Brown to be an honest man; that he was a better man than Iauka and that I had no confidence in the latter. The changes were thereupon rung on why an honest man should be supported and an incompetent one opposed.

The foregoing alleged quotation involves a half truth and a whole misrepresentation.

I have at no time said that Brown was a better man than Iauka, nor that I had no confidence in the latter.—L. A. Thurston on Brown.

"Iauka is an unstable, vacillating man who has belonged to all three parties in a year and cannot be depended upon to move in any given political direction if the wind changes. He has confessed to having indelible spots on his record. But his most serious fault as a Delegate in Congress would be his blind, unreasoning hatred of white men and white men's measures."—L. A. Thurston's Advertiser on Iauka, November 4, '04.

TREES PLANTED BY SCHOOL CHILDREN

Arbor Day Is Celebrated In Most Practical Manner

Arbor Day was fittingly celebrated today in all of the schools of the city and several score young trees were planted during the progress of the exercises.

At Kamehameha Girls' School quite an elaborate program was presented beneath the trees of the campus, and several visitors from town came out to be present. Miss Pope, the principal, was in charge. Among the songs sweetly sung by the young Hawaiian girls were "Song of the Trees," "Senior Chorus," "My Sweetheart," "Hawaiian Hymn," "That's What I'd Do," and "The Polynesian," while there were a number of Scripture quotations appropriate to trees, and various recitations by the girls. At the close each grade planted a small poinciana regia on the King street side of the campus, this being the beginning of a poinciana avenue down which the students of the future may walk to recitations.

At the Boys' School across the way similar exercises were held. In the afternoon Jared Smith gave an address on Arbor Day.

At Kaunakakai School the children of the older grades gave quotations appropriate to the day while the younger ones gave recitations. Among the songs were "Koko Palm," "Kiaue Tree," and "Under the Trees." Each of the fourteen rooms held its own exercises shortly after 1, while in the afternoon, following the individual programs, all assembled in the grounds where the two oldest boys of the school, Sin Hung and Yuk En, planted a poinciana regia. The program was:

Court Vindicates Vida From Charges Of Giving Water Cure

JUDGE LINDSAY TAKES VIEW OF NO VIOLENCE

By the decision of Judge Lindsay given this morning in the Circuit Court in the Y. Man Young case, allowing the confession of the defendant to be introduced as evidence, Assistant Sheriff Henry Vida is cleared of the famous "watercure" charges. According to Supervisor Jack Lucas, "That is just the same action as we took in the Board of Supervisors."

When court opened this morning Judge Lindsay simply stated "The objection of counsel on the part of the defendant is overruled." Attorney Lightfoot stopped, as if surprised, and asked "Do you make that decision?" Judge Lindsay simply repeated his former statement and the case went on, Henry Vida taking the stand and going on from the point where he was stopped by the objection of the defense on Wednesday. At that time the prosecution to bring in the evidence of the confession made to Henry Vida and a number of his deputies by the Korean, detailing all the trouble that he had had with his rival in Mrs. Emmeluth's affection, Choy Uk Chay, and then telling of the assault with a pistol which he also identified.

The defense attempted to prove that the Korean had been subjected to the watercure and other villainous punishment and that from bodily fear as the result of the treatment he received he had made a confession which was totally untrue. As is shown by the overruling of the objection by the judge who is trying the case, there was no violence used. The Korean evidently made a confession and then decided that he could brazen the case out and tried by making up a tale of cruelty to do so. Who assisted him in the fanciful details of the case which he described one after another is unknown, but may be brought out later in the trial.

When Henry Vida took the stand he proceeded to detail the story of the confession which was made in his office in the presence of Officers Joe and Manuel Leal. He told of sending for Y. Man Young and showing him the revolver with which it was alleged the assault had been committed and which had been obtained by the police from an old Korean at Ewa to whom Y. Man Young had pawned it for $3. He told him that he had better confess and Young answered "My teller you evil thing old man he tell you. You sab meuche."

He then went on to tell of buying the revolver from a Chinese gunsmith on River street and of how on the night the crime was committed he hid behind a papaya tree on the Emmeluth premises after he had seen a man whom he supposed to be Choy Uk Chay dressing in the servants' quarters. When this man came out he followed behind him and shot at him four or five times, then placing the pistol at his own breast and pulling the trigger, he was weapon failed to explode. He ran away and went direct to the railroad station where he took the 11:30 train for Ewa.

As his motive for the assault he stated that he was very fond of Mrs. Emmeluth and that he was familiar with her and that on one occasion he had found the other Korean, Choy Uk Chay, intimate with her. This made him madly jealous and he was ready to kill both the woman and the Korean.

He also told of meeting Mrs. Emmeluth in the afternoon at a Chinese store down town and Choy Chay was with her at the time. The two Koreans had a bitter argument there and also at his room, where the three went. At the Emmeluth residence they went upstairs and to Mrs. Emmeluth's room, where he locked the door and had a fight with Choy Chay. He boasted his rival and the latter tried to jump out of the window but was held back by the defendant, and Mrs. Emmeluth.

Vida testified that the defendant next stated that he got hold of an old revolver and threatened to kill both Mrs. Emmeluth and Choy Chay. Vida stated that Y. Man Young made a sound confession to himself and to Sheriff Brown the next day and went over exactly the same story. Vida stated that

Republican Parade Tomorrow Of Business Firms

PROMINENT HOUSES AGREE TO TAKE PART

A Republican business men's parade will be a new feature of the present campaign. It will take place tomorrow at noon, and will be well attended. A large number of firms will be represented each by its own delegation, at the head of which cards will show the names of the firms. The parade will start promptly at noon from the Hackfeld building corner, the line of march being down Fort street to Hotel, to Bethel, to Merchant, to Fort street, and back to the Hackfeld building, where it will disband.

A large number of firms have agreed to participate in the parade to demonstrate that they are backing the Republican party and the principles of its platform. The following pledge has been circulated and signed:

"We, the undersigned business firms of Honolulu approve of the idea of a Republican business men's parade on Saturday, November 3d, 1906 from 12 to 12:30 o'clock, and agree to take part therein:

BIG HIT IS MADE BY CAMPAIGN SONG

Meeting At Emma Square By Republicans Is a Great Success

TREASURER TRENT IS SHOWN UP BY RAWLINS

HE WORKED UNDER ACT OF REPUBLICAN LEGISLATURE AND INSTRUCTIONS OF BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

The Republican meeting held at Emma Square last night was attended by a good sized crowd. The real feature of the evening was the singing of the Brown campaign song by Ernest Kaul and his quintet, to the tune of Honolulu Heigh.

The meeting was presided over by Clarence Crabbe, who was heartily cheered as he introduced John Hughes, who delivered a short speech on the principles of the Republican party.

The next speaker was A. D. Castro, who named the Democratic party, the party of scandal and abuse. He contrasted against this the Republican party, working for straightforwardness and decency. He contrasted again the work done when the Home Rulers were in power as compared with that of the Republican administration. He concluded with an appeal for all to vote the straight ticket.

Judge Kaleo was next introduced. He made a short speech in Hawaiian, which was applauded.

David Kalanokalani Jr. said: "In 1905 you saw fit to place your confidence in me by electing me to office by a practically unanimous vote. I believe that you will do this again on Tuesday. I also ask you particularly to support W. W. Harris. But above all stand pat for the Republican ticket as a whole."

Charlie Hustace said: "As a candidate on the Republican ticket I am proud of the men with whom I am running. Then too we are going to elect every man on the ticket and I want you all to help to make the vote a big one."

"I want to say something else. If you put me in as Supervisor I will see that everything is straight, as I will watch every single thing done and be sure it is straight."

Sam Kamakana next played a cornet solo after which A. V. Gear said: "Ladies and gentlemen, aloha nui. Twenty years ago I came to Hawaii and lived in a little cottage only a few feet from here. I feel that I am in my home precinct now."

"You elected me once as a member of the House under the Hawaiian Republic. I think I can stand on my record of that time. I am here to ask for the laboring vote for myself and for the other candidates on the ticket and if elected I will see that they do right if I have to stand over them to do it."

"Remember that if you make a single

Woodman Spare That Tree ..... Recitation
The Little Tree ..... Recitation
The Trees' Friend ..... Song
Planting a poinciana regia tree in the grounds before the assembled school.

The tree to be planted by two boys from the eighth grade.

At Maenae School each of the four rooms held individual exercises which included recitations and songs appropriate to the day, after which they assembled in the grounds, where each grade planted a kukui tree. The principal, Miss Angus, spoke informally to the children of the significance of the day.

At the Royal School the program as published was carried out, including recitations and songs, with addresses by Judge Sanford B. Dole and Canon Macdonald.

At the Normal School pepper trees were planted and there were songs and recitations bearing on the day.

At the High School an address was made by Superintendent of Forestry Ralph Hosmer and there were songs. The Senior class, as usual, planted the tree, and formed a circle about it as it was placed in the ground, the remainder of the students being grouped
